It is increasingly make Malta a location which foreigners look to when Brussels, has often seemed sidelined.

This is important recognition for Malta, a country that, because Malta plays in the region. Apparently keen to explore with Gonzi there was a strong nod of acknowledgement about the critical role the massive evacuation effort from troubled Libya, the influx

When Cameron welcomed Gonzi to Number 10 in May this year, Prime Minister David Cameron spoke with warm gratitude

Today, aged 33, Calleja has already established himself as one of the most

“Malta is a special place that we can take a number of political and business

They went to do things regionally and when they want political accessibility. We use diplomacy to get our point across and we

“For me, there is a very strong message in our history, we

If any Maltese hotelier is a hotelier by passion, it must be Joseph Zammit Tabona. George Cross Island," explains Zammit Tabona. His passion is not only to offer Maltese food, beers but also the country’s legendary welcome, cultural

Harrods to Fly Malta Flag

If you didn’t know, you’d be in a Maltese flag then in an English one. It’s the same colour, yes, but the design is different. Malta’s flag, non-officially known as the George Cross Island, was granted by King George VI in 1942, 10 years after the Maltese were given their independence. The flag is divided into four quarters, each containing a Maltese cross, which is the national emblem of Malta. The flag is flown to commemorate the bravery and sacrifice of the Maltese people during World War II.

The Maltese flag is not just a symbol of national pride, but also an important element in the country’s culture and identity. It is flown at public buildings, schools, and government offices, and it is also worn by military personnel. The Maltese flag is also used in various cultural events, such as festivals and parades, to represent the Maltese people.

The flag is an important symbol in Malta, serving as a reminder of the country’s history, culture, and identity. It is a symbol of strength and resilience, and it is a source of pride for the Maltese people.

Leveraging Regional Adeptitudes

The Prime Minister is registered Malta as having the 5th lowest unemployment rate within the EU27. Gonzi qualifies this by saying, “The challenges we face now are actually the challenges faced by success stories. Thus far in our history, we

Sony Hirai

The Maltese Tenor

“I think the Maltese Prime Minister personally on behalf of the country and, not for the first time in our history, we should pay tribute to Malta and her people alphabetically to Malta.”

David Cameron - British PM

Gonzi, also an academic who teaches Economic Diplomacy at the Mediterranean Academy for Diplomatic Studies at the University of Malta, holds true the belief that diplomacy is the essence of the way that we manage our relations with other people worldwide; confirming that, “In reality we are living in a period in which, particularly in the desolation, Malta’s role is very important. We fight for our hard-won recognition because we believe it is really the kind of role that our own location lends itself to. We believe that we can take a number of political and business initiatives that could make a difference. Malta as a springboard to the Maltese region is a theme that is increasingly being reflected upon both by government and business leaders alike.

“The Prime Minister is still to deliver on his promise to create a Maltese tech hub in the country, but we are seeing the first signs of progress in this area. The Maltese government is working closely with tech companies and has put in place a number of incentives to encourage investment and growth in the sector. These efforts are paying off, with a number of companies choosing to establish operations in Malta.

The Prime Minister is also committed to improving education in Malta, and has lent its expertise to those nations. Malta’s positioning, as

“The Maltese flag is a symbol of national pride, and it is an important element in the country’s culture and identity. It is flown at public buildings, schools, and government offices, and it is also worn by military personnel. The Maltese flag is also used in various cultural events, such as festivals and parades, to represent the Maltese people.

Joseph Zammit Tabona

BY SORCHIR HELLER & GRAMBLE VILLO

It is quite clear that Malta has a strong tradition of hospitality, and it is this factor that has contributed to its reputation as a destination for tourists. The Maltese people are known for their warm hospitality and welcoming spirit, and this is reflected in the way they welcome visitors to their country. The Maltese government is working closely with the tourism industry to ensure that visitors have a enjoyable experience in Malta.

The Maltese government is also committed to improving the investment climate in Malta, and has put in place a number of incentives to encourage foreign investment. These efforts are paying off, with a number of companies choosing to establish operations in Malta.

The Prime Minister is also committed to improving education in Malta, and has lent its expertise to those nations. Malta’s positioning, as

The Maltese flag is a symbol of national pride, and it is an important element in the country’s culture and identity. It is flown at public buildings, schools, and government offices, and it is also worn by military personnel. The Maltese flag is also used in various cultural events, such as festivals and parades, to represent the Maltese people.

Joseph Zammit Tabona

BY SORCHIR HELLER & GRAMBLE VILLO

It is quite clear that Malta has a strong tradition of hospitality, and it is this factor that has contributed to its reputation as a destination for tourists. The Maltese people are known for their warm hospitality and welcoming spirit, and this is reflected in the way they welcome visitors to their country. The Maltese government is working closely with the tourism industry to ensure that visitors have a enjoyable experience in Malta.

The Maltese government is also committed to improving the investment climate in Malta, and has put in place a number of incentives to encourage foreign investment. These efforts are paying off, with a number of companies choosing to establish operations in Malta.

The Prime Minister is also committed to improving education in Malta, and has lent its expertise to those nations. Malta’s positioning, as

The Maltese flag is a symbol of national pride, and it is an important element in the country’s culture and identity. It is flown at public buildings, schools, and government offices, and it is also worn by military personnel. The Maltese flag is also used in various cultural events, such as festivals and parades, to represent the Maltese people.
Malta's unique topography takes visitors' breath away from the moment they set foot on the islands.

Enchanting in Every Season

Highly desirable location with a 3,500-year flight of success, Malta enjoys the perfect Mediterranean location. For years, many marine navigators chose Malta as a midway point between Africa and Europe on their transoceanic journeys. A 2.5-hour flight from London or Paris will bring you to the island of Malta. Malta offers the facilities and the infrastructure to cater for your yachting needs. Moreover, it is poised to host the Citadella, there are acres of architectural delights to marvel at. A veritable treasure trove of heritage and culture, Malta, over the years has become a cultural melting pot. Small in size, big in reach.

Malta offers foreign investors the security and ease of operating within EU borders yet within easy reach of emerging markets in the Euro-Med region and the Middle East.

Malta is the ideal business hub in the Mediterranean.

WWW.IMAGEDIPLOMACY.COM

Malta’s topography takes visitors’ breath away from the moment they set foot on the islands.

Malta’s unique topography takes visitors’ breath away from the moment they set foot on the islands.

Malta’s unique topography takes visitors’ breath away from the moment they set foot on the islands.

Malta’s unique topography takes visitors’ breath away from the moment they set foot on the islands.

Malta’s unique topography takes visitors’ breath away from the moment they set foot on the islands.

Malta’s topography takes visitors’ breath away from the moment they set foot on the islands.

Enchanting in Every Season

Highly desirable location with a 3,500-year flight of success, Malta enjoys the perfect Mediterranean location. For years, many marine navigators chose Malta as a midway point between Africa and Europe on their transoceanic journeys. A 2.5-hour flight from London or Paris will bring you to the island of Malta. Malta offers the facilities and the infrastructure to cater for your yachting needs. Moreover, it is poised to host the Citadella, there are acres of architectural delights to marvel at. A veritable treasure trove of heritage and culture, Malta, over the years has become a cultural melting pot. Small in size, big in reach.

Malta offers foreign investors the security and ease of operating within EU borders yet within easy reach of emerging markets in the Euro-Med region and the Middle East.

Malta is the ideal business hub in the Mediterranean.

WWW.IMAGEDIPLOMACY.COM

Malta’s unique topography takes visitors’ breath away from the moment they set foot on the islands.

Enchanting in Every Season

Highly desirable location with a 3,500-year flight of success, Malta enjoys the perfect Mediterranean location. For years, many marine navigators chose Malta as a midway point between Africa and Europe on their transoceanic journeys. A 2.5-hour flight from London or Paris will bring you to the island of Malta. Malta offers the facilities and the infrastructure to cater for your yachting needs. Moreover, it is poised to host the Citadella, there are acres of architectural delights to marvel at. A veritable treasure trove of heritage and culture, Malta, over the years has become a cultural melting pot. Small in size, big in reach.

Malta offers foreign investors the security and ease of operating within EU borders yet within easy reach of emerging markets in the Euro-Med region and the Middle East.

Malta is the ideal business hub in the Mediterranean.

WWW.IMAGEDIPLOMACY.COM
Malta’s Hidden Gem Awaits Discovery

GOZO

With today's ease of travel, off-the-beaten-path places like Gozo are on the rise and far beyond. Only 35 minutes away from Valetta by ferry, the island of Gozo has an aura that many visitors fail to grasp. Unlike Malta, this tiny island becomes trifled and completed in its beauty. With meandering country trails, green valleys and picturesque landscapes, it is no wonder why Gozo is a hidden gem. The island of Gozo has a unique culture and identity, with a rich history that dates back thousands of years. Its people are known for their hospitality and warm welcome. In fact, the local people are so welcoming that you will feel like you are a part of their family.

Despite being an island nation at the limits of the Mediterranean Sea, Gozo offers a unique and diverse landscape. With its rugged coastline, stunning beaches, and picturesque landscapes, it is a true gem for nature lovers. The island is home to a rich array of flora and fauna, including rare species of birds and plants. Gozo is also known for its ancient megalithic temples, which date back to 3600 BC and are considered one of the most important historical sites in the region.

One of the most beautiful places to visit in Gozo is the world-famous Xlendi Tower, a 14th-century tower built to defend the island against invaders. Today, the tower serves as a tourist attraction and offers stunning views of the surrounding landscape. Another must-visit destination is the Ggantija Temples, which are considered to be one of the oldest and best-preserved megalithic temples in the world.

For those who enjoy water sports, the island of Gozo offers a range of activities, including scuba diving, snorkeling, and kayaking. The crystal-clear waters are home to a variety of marine life, including colorful corals and tropical fish. The island is also known for its beautiful beaches, including Ramla Bay, which is a popular spot for windsurfing and kiteboarding.

In addition to its natural beauty, Gozo is also known for its rich culture and traditions. The island is home to a number of traditional festivals and events, including the Gozo Horse Festival, which takes place in the spring, and the Gozo Wine Festival, which is held in the fall. The island is also known for its delicious local cuisine, which is a fusion of Mediterranean and Middle Eastern flavors.

For those looking for a cultural experience, Gozo is home to a number of museums and historical sites, including the Gozo Museum, which houses a collection of artifacts and artifacts from the island's prehistoric and historic periods. The Gozo Museum is a must-visit destination for anyone interested in the island's rich history and culture.

In conclusion, Gozo is a hidden gem waiting to be explored. With its stunning natural beauty, rich culture, and friendly people, it is a true treasure trove for anyone looking for a unique and unforgettable travel experience.
Becoming a hotelier may not have been Alfred Pisani’s choice or vision as a young man, but a twist of fate set him on the road where he is today. Surprisingly, this has never dampened his innate ability to invest himself wholeheartedly and dedicate himself to the mantle he has taken on. Pisani is not if nothing passionate and determined in his attainment of every goal he sets himself and the Corinthia Group. His aptitude to turn his hand to the hospitality industry, whereas he once dreamed of a life of science, is evident in the incredible rise of the Corinthia Group, its award-winning properties and global operations. Corinthia is undoubtedly the very best example of the internationalisation of a Maltese brand, seeing the flag of his native land now fluttering in the London breeze must surely be a great source of pride for a man who started with almost nothing but debt. A true entrepreneur of our time, Pisani’s vision, strong work ethic, and reacting desire to triumph against all the odds is the kind of success story we all need to hear about.

A bedrock of stability. Investment decisions are risky matters. Stability secures investment yields over time, at minimal risk. Reputation, efficiency and reliability will allow you peace of mind even in times of turmoil.

Since Independence in 1964, Malta has enjoyed political, economic and social stability. Fully integrated in the European single market, it is not only a reputable financial jurisdiction, but also a well performing economy with sound fundamentals.
The 21st century. Taking on such a significant project in 2008 - same time also stunningly draws the premises very much into modern redevelopment that evokes the site’s heritage and at the residence until the building went up for auction in 2007. The Crown Upon decommission in the 1930s, the Ministry of Defence took up Trafalgar Square, with commanding views across the Thames - unbeatable location - perfectly situated in Whitehall Place, near of the economy and support tourism in Malta. What is true is that Corinthia Hotel London is striving to offer the our inventiveness, all of our energy surges again to the forefront.” McCue, Karen Ruimy and Marc Prime Minister Nick Clegg, (both pictured attendance were trustees) - including Colin Firth and Livia Firth (both pictured attend the reception desk and chandelier designed by Chafik Gasmi which shimmers almost every night. The group, in its money.” Shunning both the aristocratic style characteristic of 1644, but attentive service that is the “Spirit of Corinthia”. It is no accident that guests will be so overwhelmed by the “Corinthia Hotel London Experience” that this opulent yet quiet modern chic - which seems so effortless shining on the metropolis next year, it is an appropriate choice for hotel industry. A culmination of decades of growth, the London flagship hotel on Paris, Rome, New York and beyond. A culmination of years of planning, building and business person, in Malta you will find affordable, available and malleable human resources and world-class education facilities for your children. It is also the reason why so many investors have made Malta home for over 40 years.
surprise that Malta’s future relies on its maritime heritage. As a seafaring island nation whose maritime history dates back to the Phoenicians, Malta has made it a desirable location attracting luxury vessels. Dr Ann Fenech, maritime and mercantile law guru, says, “We recognise that clients need to be assured of a high-quality service and that’s why we focus on offering excellence and service. We want to ensure that our clients feel welcome and valued.”

Malta’s maritime and mercantile law has a long history, dating back to the 19th century when the British Empire was at its peak. Today, the island nation is home to the International Maritime Organisation, the International Labour Organisation, and various other international organisations, making it a hub for maritime and mercantile law.

A Lifestyle

As a seafaring island nation, Malta enjoys year-round sunshine, moderate temperatures, and an interesting mix of rural and urban landscape. The beauty of the enchanting Mediterranean environment in which the rich and famous can, like Empress of Mexico and Abramovich’s Yacht Pelorus Falcon - a regular visitor to Malta - enjoy the sun shining and your drive (or walk) to work taking a matter of minutes rather than a rain-sodden hour. Imagine the view the sun shining and your drive (or walk) to work taking a matter of minutes rather than a rain-sodden hour. Imagine the view.

A warm and balanced lifestyle.

Malta enjoys year-round sunshine, moderate temperatures, and an interesting mix of rural and cosmopolitan feel. It is also a treasure trove to know 30 years of history. Coupled with this is the warmth and hospitality of the Mediterranean people, a vibrant social and artistic scene and an European way of life.

A warm and balanced lifestyle.

Doing business and enjoying it makes you feel so good. It’s like being good at your favourite hobby. After all business is also about you and your family’s quality of life.
Being an “onshore” EU domicile, at a time when “offshore” jurisdictions are under increased scrutiny under management have increased exponentially from €555 million (c£500m) in 2008 to €1.1 billion in 2010. 108 new fund licenses were issued in 2010 alone, signifying a 20% year on year growth.

410 funds are now registered in Malta entirely which is, “Can I afford not to be in Malta?” Interestingly, growth is being driven by new fund setups and redomiciliations from non-EU jurisdictions. The country’s position as having the 10th soundest banking system in the world, alongside its PCC legislation, Malta has many inherent benefits as an official language and largely contracted overstates. Furthermore, the Maltese financial services sector is a world-class, well-regulated jurisdiction that is attractive to many civilisations. Most recently it was a British art curator.

The Maltese financial services sector is a world-class, well-regulated jurisdiction that is attracting many civilisations. Most recently it was a British art curator. Malta’s Prime Minister, Dr Gonzi proudly notes, “Even in the face of a global meltdown - that brought down not only financial institutions, but the sector registered consecutive double-digit growth.”

Incredibly, total assets under management have increased from €555 million (c£500m) in 2008 to €1.1 billion in 2010. 108 new fund licenses were issued in 2010 alone, signifying a 20% year on year growth. 410 funds are now registered in Malta entirely which is, “Can I afford not to be in Malta?” Interestingly, growth is being driven by new fund setups and redomiciliations from non-EU jurisdictions. The country’s position as having the 10th soundest banking system in the world, alongside its PCC legislation, Malta has many inherent benefits as an official language and largely contracted overstates. Furthermore, the Maltese financial services sector is a world-class, well-regulated jurisdiction that is attractive to many civilisations. Most recently it was a British art curator.

The Maltese financial services sector is a world-class, well-regulated jurisdiction that is attracting many civilisations. Most recently it was a British art curator.
Malta is truly your Mediterranean gateway for business and leisure.

WWW.THINCMALT.COM

Thrive - Innovative Player

Since the turn of the century, information and communication technologies (ICT) has become a major pillar for the Maltese government. Malta’s stable status and its drive to transform itself into a knowledge-based, service economy makes connecting absolutely vital to the country’s development. With the increased weight given to this, the ICT sector has become a vital driving force in the economy. The ICT sector is one of the fastest growing sectors with the Maltese government Vue Vision 2015, the aim was to provide creative web development services for a truly integrated web presence with effective support for all internet-based requirements, Seasus leading development houses in Malta. Offering a one-stop-shop approach for all internet-based requirements, Seasus is dedicated to helping its client’s exploit the advantages of new technologies through their integrated services, ranging from website, mobile apps and email marketing and online growth strategy.

Malta has seen tremendous growth in the number of companies choosing to set up here, which, for whatever reason, companies choose Malta for their business operations, it is a great advantage for the international community. No one could have predicted this more than the world's largest travel and leisure destination. The tourism industry, however, is not the only sector that has seen growth in Malta. The Maltese government has been working hard to attract businesses from all over the world to set up in Malta, and the country is performing a very good job.

In short, the Maltese government has been successful in attracting businesses from all over the world to set up in Malta. The country is performing a very good job, and the Maltese government has been working hard to attract more businesses to Malta.

The role Malta plays in the continuing growth of the sector, and the market it has created, was cited in the recently published “Gaming Destination Reports 2018” by the European Gaming and Wagering Regulation (AGA), coupled with Malta’s strong regulatory framework, and its solid reputation as a leading offshore gambling jurisdiction.

The increase in gaming revenue in Malta is not just a result of the growth of the online gaming sector. The government’s Vision 2015, the aim was to provide creative web development services for a truly integrated web presence with effective support for all internet-based requirements, Seasus leading development houses in Malta. Offering a one-stop-shop approach for all internet-based requirements, Seasus is dedicated to helping its client’s exploit the advantages of new technologies through their integrated services, ranging from website, mobile apps and email marketing and online growth strategy.

The Maltese government has been successful in attracting businesses from all over the world to set up in Malta. The country is performing a very good job, and the Maltese government has been working hard to attract more businesses to Malta.

The role Malta plays in the continuing growth of the sector, and the market it has created, was cited in the recently published “Gaming Destination Reports 2018” by the European Gaming and Wagering Regulation (AGA), coupled with Malta’s strong regulatory framework, and its solid reputation as a leading offshore gambling jurisdiction.